

COLOURS HOPPY

In this game, one person calls out the colours and the other person has to hop into the correct square.

RULES:

HOPPING:

Your feet have to be fully inside the square – if your foot touches the line or you land in the wrong square you lose your turn. When you're hopping, if you touch the ground with your other foot you lose your turn.

HOW TO PLAY:

This is a game for two players, a hopper and a caller. There are six squares, with six different colours. Write the name or initial of the colour in each square.

Each person's turn has three steps:

1. In the first step, the caller calls out the colours, one at a time, and the hopper must hop straight into each colour as it is called. This goes on until the hopper has hopped into all six colours.
2. Repeat for the next step, with the hopper jumping into the colours with both feet instead of hopping.
3. Repeat for the third step, with the hopper jumping into the colours with feet crossed ('scissors').

Players swap places when all three steps have been successfully completed, or when the hopper makes a mistake and goes out.

You can hop or jump more than once in the same square.

Draw small squares to begin with, and make bigger squares or add more squares and colours as you get better at the game.
